Do you want to be part of the discussion?

We hold a quarterly Self Lay Forum where we share information on changes in the industry and tell you what's going on in our business. If you want to get involved in this Forum please let us know by emailing SelfLay@hdcymru.co.uk. We can then invite you to join us!

We have a Technical Manager and a Operational Delivery Manager who are responsible for the management of developer service activities in the STW region and are your point of contact for any operational / technical escalations
